RELEVANCE OF CRAFT TO THEME

- Often the 'five named crafts' are not tied into the theme, ie a fruit cake in a Horror Exhibit will get few marks, but a Devil's Cake will get a lot more.

ATTRACTIVENESS OF EXHIBIT

- Ensure that the exhibit has a focal point and that the rest of the exhibit helps to draw the eye to that point.
- Be careful when splitting up the space with physical walls, as they do not always help to draw the eye to the focal point.
- Have an overall colour scheme and don't introduce too many other colours, especially those that clash, as this will draw the eye away.

ORIGINALITY AND INGENUITY

- Try to find a twist or different angle on the theme.

COMPETITORS' NOTES - COOKERY

IN ADVANCE OF THE COMPETITION

- Read the rules very carefully and highlight the important sections.
- Consider the theme and restrictions imposed.
- When reading recipe books, don't ignore recipes which use an oven as these may be adapted to top-heat cooking. Recipes needing chilling may be done in a cool bag or on a bed of crushed ice.
- Select a simple recipe which shows a number of simple skills which you can ensure will work, rather than something complicated which can very easily go wrong.
- Practice two or three times to work out utensils needed to plan your work time (aim to only have five minutes spare).

AT THE COMPETITION

Preparation

- Lay out your utensils and ingredients in a logical manner.
- Appear tidily dressed in a clean white coat, skirt/collar and tie, clean shoes, etc - remember, first impressions count; clean tidy competitor = clean tidy cook.
- When finished with utensils/ingredients, either put in box under table or bin (any large amounts of spare ingredients/mixture should be stored in plastic pots for "further use").
- Prepare as much as possible on site although wash and weigh ingredients at home if practical.

Hygiene

- Before laying out table and at completion of competition, ensure that you wipe down the table, etc.
- Have plenty of clean, hot washing up water and cloth.
- Ensure that you have a bin (a plastic carrier bag pinned to the table is a good idea as the judge cannot see what you put in it!).
- Wipe down chopping boards (preferably not wooden), knives, etc between each task.
- Keep a plate or similar next to your gas ring on which to place any knives, spoons, etc.

Interpretation of Theme

- Think carefully about the theme and your display. If the theme is "Modern British Foods", all the ingredients and any items on the display, i.e. wine, should be British, and the display should have a modern feel to it.

Presentation of Dish

- Take care in your garnish as you can use this opportunity to show off several skills, but don't over garnish.

Overall Display

- Keep displays simple, ie cloth, flowers and menu cards.
- Try experimenting with heights to add interest.
- Ensure that cloths are not creased. Roll the cloth on a drainpipe or tube made from old newspaper.
- Ensure that you keep within any size limitation and take your own tape measure.

Use of Time

- Plan time before hand to allow yourself maximum use, ie 55 minutes out of one hour.
- Allow time to chat to the Judge.
- Think of how to use up your spare time while waiting for the main dish to cook/chill, ie side salad and dressing, frosted fruits, etc.
- If you have a problem/accident, tell the Judge or Steward and they will take this into account and allow you extra time if necessary.

GENERAL

- SMILE - and enjoy yourself!

COMPETITORS' NOTES - COOKERY

IN ADVANCE OF THE COMPETITION

- Read the rules very carefully and highlight the important sections.
- Consider the theme and restrictions imposed.
- When reading recipe books, don't ignore recipes which use an oven as these may be adapted to top-heat cooking. Recipes needing chilling may be done in a cool bag or on a bed of crushed ice.
- Select a simple recipe which shows a number of simple skills which you can ensure will work, rather than something complicated which can very easily go wrong.
- Practice two or three times to work out utensils needed to plan your work time (aim to only have five minutes spare).

AT THE COMPETITION

Preparation

- Lay out your utensils and ingredients in a logical manner.
- Appear tidily dressed in a clean white coat, skirt/collar and tie, clean shoes, etc - remember, first impressions count; clean tidy competitor = clean tidy cook.
- When finished with utensils/ingredients, either put in box under table or bin (any large amounts of spare ingredients/mixture should be stored in plastic pots for "further use").
- Prepare as much as possible on site although wash and weigh ingredients at home if practical.

Hygiene

- Before laying out table and at completion of competition, ensure that you wipe down the table, etc.
- Have plenty of clean, hot washing up water and cloth.
- Ensure that you have a bin (a plastic carrier bag pinned to the table is a good idea as the judge cannot see what you put in it!).
- Wipe down chopping boards (preferably not wooden), knives, etc between each task.
- Keep a plate or similar next to your gas ring on which to place any knives, spoons, etc.

Interpretation of Theme

- Think carefully about the theme and your display. If the theme is "Modern British Foods", all the ingredients and any items on the display, i.e. wine, should be British, and the display should have a modern feel to it.

- Ensure that all writing/printing is tidy and as evenly matched as possible.
- Try to think of novel ways to include skills and crafts, ie embroider/appliqué/print the title or theme of the exhibit on to a cloth covering the front and sides of the exhibit table.

PLANNING AND RESEARCH

- Ensure that the exhibit has a focal point and that the rest of the exhibit helps to draw the eye to it.
- Have an overall colour theme and don't introduce too many other colours, especially those that clash and draw the eye away from the focal point.
- Take care in using dolls and model animals as they may be out of proportion with the rest of the exhibit and look "naff".
- Ensure that crafts and projects tie in with the theme, ie if the theme is a horror Movie, don't just use a fruitcake as a cookery item, use a Devil's cake.
- Present any information in as brief and concise a form as possible as people will not spend a long time reading it.

OVERALL PRESENTATION

- Keep all items displayed clean and neat. Bring drapes, tablecloths, etc., rolled on a tube, ie broom handle, drainpipe, tube of rolled newspaper, etc to stop them creasing.
- Take care in pinning up signs and any other paperwork. Use glue or blue tack instead of staples and drawing pins if possible, as it looks a lot tidier.
- Try to find a twist or different angle on the theme.
- Even if you do not use the front and sides of the table to display any information, etc., consider covering them as this will help to make the exhibit look neater.
